TWINING, INC. ANNOUNCES NEW CHIEF FINANCIAL OFFICER

Long Beach, CA (September 12, 2023) – Twining, Inc. announces today that it has hired Tommy Young Lee as their new Chief Financial Officer (CFO). The news comes as the company's previous CFO retired after more than 9 years with Twining and over 15 years of executive level leadership in his career.

"While we wish our former CFO nothing but the best in his retirement, we couldn't be more excited to have Tommy join Twining." Robert M. Ryan, owner and CEO said. "His experience and understanding of our goals for the future made him the ideal candidate for us."

Prior to joining Twining, Tommy served as a CFO for a national consumer goods company accelerating acquisition and divestiture. As the CFO of Twining, Tommy delivers financial guidance and serves as an advisor to corporate governance. His main focus is on building a cross-functional team that can prudently mitigate financial risks, identify value creation opportunities, and building lifetime relationships.

Tommy brings strong financial expertise to support strategic initiatives and optimization of business performance spanning range of industries including energy, manufacturing, professional services, etc. Over the course of his career, Tommy developed leadership in all aspects of financial stewardship including financial and operational analysis, corporate reporting, internal and external audit, financial planning & analysis.

Tommy earned a Master's degree in Accountancy and a Bachelor's in Business Administration from Baylor University.
